

BACK-END DEVELOPER

in legal tech startup

(Node.JS)

(m/w/d)

PROJECT OVERVIEW

Help us to complete the beta version of our intelligent and modular legal text editing and content management web application. Join us now on our way to the first full public release and beyond.

OUR COMPANY

18points is a legal tech startup with an interdisciplinary team. We are aiming to build the next blueprint of legal text production and content management from the ground up and in accordance with the highest standards in UI and UX.

TEAM ORGANIZATION

You will report directly to the CTO and CPO. You will contribute to the roadmap definition and work independently under agile scrum organization in 2-week sprints. You will also participate in remote meetings with the entire team.

CHALLENGES

- Data export / import from and to word, pdf and our data format
- Finish an offline first full text search as a core feature of our product
- Analyze and sectionize law codes for modular workflows

REQUIRED SKILLS

- Skill beats Degree. Degree in Computer Science or similar preferred but not required. Student or Self-taught welcome. Deepen and expand your skills as part of our team!
- Profound experience in Web-Standards (HTML, CSS, ...), Python and NodeJS.
- A plus is experience in XSLT, ReactJS, Next.js, TypeScript, Testing libraries für Integration- & End-To-End-Tests (Jest, Selenium, ...), ProseMirror and RxDB.
- Language: English is required. German is a plus.

WHAT'S IN IT FOR YOU?

- Earn your company shares and become a permanent member of the 18points team. Grow with us!
- Individual time commitment starting at 10 hours / week with flexible working hours.
- Get insights into the legal tech and startup world at first hand.
- Gain valuable experience in a professional coding environment: Dive into new technologies or deepen existing knowledge.
- Work in a dynamic small team and contribute your own ideas and thoughts.
- Work completely remote from anywhere at any time.

INTERESTED? LET'S TALK!

If you are passionate about fundamentally changing the way law students and lawyers store and share their knowledge, then this job is for you!

Get in touch via our website or directly via e-mail: joshua@18points.de.